

Let the future grow.
Let the city continue.

Technology belongs to an era; the city belongs to generations.

The city is not a container for technology. It is the continuity of intergenerational life.

Not every technical advance deserves a permanent spatial cost. Protect shade, walking, learning, service, maintenance and small daily commerce first; then cautiously ask whether technology deserves a temporary stay.

Long-lived city

Streets, trees, walking, service and shared memory do not yield to short-cycle equipment.

Adaptable city

Rooms, thresholds and operations can be repaired without crossing public or rights boundaries.

Temporary intelligence

It appears only when needed, accountable, stoppable and fully resettable.

Three key areas: return technology to daily life

Not three AI rooms, but three ways of caring for an existing city.

Ordinary-city floor

Mobility, blue-green space, accessibility, human service, maintenance and daily small commerce are complete first.

Three scopes

43.6 km² is relationship only; 11.4 km² and key areas are submitted provisional geometry. Official data triggers full recalculation.

Sources / assumptions

Public material supports only stated scope; rights, access, capacity, safety, budget, operations and field data remain unconfirmed.

Self-check state

Any final conclusion must bind local gates, PR CI and trusted review to one exact SHA.
